La madia e la cassettera Lido traggono ispirazione da una forma architettonica. Sono infatti costituite da due "fogli" longitudinali, disposti a ponte, uno sopra l'altro. Le due strutture sottili, rivestite in pelle, percorrono in un continuum i fianchi e il top della madia. Tra questi due fogli, e a fare da trait d'union unendoli, è ricavato il volume del contenitore, chiuso da ante in essenza dotate di speciali cerniere in ottone lavorato a fresa nel caso della madia, diversa dalla cassettera, caratterizzata da cassetti in legno.

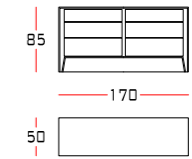

Lido sideboard and chest of drawers are inspired by an architectural shape. They consist of two longitudinal "sheets", arranged as a bridge, one above the other. The two thin structures, covered in leather, run along the sides and top of the cupboard in a continuum. Between these two sheets, and to act as a union trait, the volume of the container is obtained, closed by doors in wood with special hinges in milled brass in the case of the sideboard, different from the chest of drawers, characterized by wooden drawers.
